in these days of rapidly recurring events s the old world goes spinning down the history of our country and whose names

John S. Mosby was visiting his daughters in Alexandria, and I went over to pay a visit to the great chief of partisan whose unparalleled achievements the late civil conflict burst through larkened skies of war as the come through the midnight heavens. No his ory save his own could fully record all of the daring deeds of Colonel Mosby and ourageous command, and even then of his wonderful exploits upon the hewildered foe, whose fifful sleep was haunted by a fear of his nocturnal raids, and who nightly heard in restless freams the war shouts of his dauntless is in a quiet neighborhood in the peaceful little city of Alexandria; only a few squares away the Potomac flows lazily to the bay, and the stately trees in the churchyard of Old Christ church, where Washington used to worship, casts their shadows almost across its threshold.

HOW THE OLD COMMANDER LOOKS, I found Colonel Mosby seated in their cozy parlor about which was liberally scattered rare vases and bric-a-brac, and the presence of these with deftly wover residence in the Orient. Colonel Mosby's thick hair has caught up in the years a liberal intermingling of gray, which with his quick, bright eye, ruddy com-plexion and cherry smile, gives him a most attractive personal appearance. In de he bears a most striking resem blance to the jovial Joe Jefferson, and when in repose he is not at all unlike tion. John Goode, although in size he is more nearly proportioned like the former Colonel Mosby recounted the incident of his first hearing of President Lincoln's oclamation at Abingdon, and his imme-ate enlistment in the army, and of the is journey to the first battle of Manas-He talked of his first grouping of small band of rangers which operated with such wonderful success among the passes of the Blue Ridge, the hills of Loudon, and the forests of Fairfax, and is he stake of these chivalrous spirits who rushed with him side by side into the ry face of the contending foe, and of a number who found their last resting place on those green hill sides in the spring of 1860, there was a suspicion of a tenderer remembrance, than when he lluded to the associates and followers of the larger and regularly organized command of the later years, of the con-advance to General J. E. B. Stuars Chickahominy, was touched upon he again repeated his beautiful triiniscences as follows:

HIS FORMER OFFICERS.

In speaking of his former officers and their present homes, Col. Mosby said. "My Lieutenant Col. William Chapman, a brave and good man, is now living it Atlanta, Ga. He was appointed by Gen. Grant in the postal service. At the beginning of President Hayes' administration, I was invited to call upon him, and he stated that there was a great deal. tion, I was invited to can upon him, has he stated that there was a great deal of trouble in the Internal Revenue De-partment of the South, and that he want-ed a well-known Confederate soldier to tage general charge down there. He tage general charge down there. He wanted me to accept the place. I, however, promised to name him a man who would suit him better for the place and upon my recommendation he appointed Col. Chapman, who had proved a splendid official and has been continued in that position which he still holds. "Capt. Sam Chapman," he said, "the fighting parson, was also appointed in the postal service by General Grant and served nine years. He is at present preaching at Covington, Va., and his son is with me in California.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The stock market opened tolerably firm, in sympathy with a slight advance in prices at London and on the execution of moderate buying orders from that centre, but the extension of the labor troubles, which are being magnified by the bears as much as possible for speculative effect, led to a rapid change in the tone of the market. A general decling in prices occurred under a fairly sharp pressure to sell for both the long and short accounts. The downward movement was accelerated by a sudden drop of 3 points in Distillers to 23 on the announcement that the Gotts-Chalk case decision on the question of relates has been decided against the company, and also by reports from Chicago that Attorney-General Maloney would render his decision in the quo warranto matter and would be adverse to the trust. Chicago Gas stock declined a point. After the close of the exchange it was learned that Attorney-General Maloney was learned that Attorney-General Maloney was not only against the trust, but that it was a very sweeping one, and there was much conjecture as to the effect on the stock to-morrow. Some operators inclined to the belief that the stock would break badly, while others expressed the opinion that insiders would make an effort to force the shorts to cover, and in this way prevent a serious drop in the price. The general list yielded 4,401½ per cent. the Grangers, General Electric, and National Lead leading. Late in the afternoon Sugar was taken in hand and advanced from 96% to 980. This alarmed the bears, who rushed in to cover, and a rally of 4,601% per cent. ensued, the latter in Distillers. Speculation left off firm. The sales were 180,000 shares, including 30,000 unilsted. Railway and miscellaneous bonds were weak.

Treasury Balances—Coin, $102,330,000; currency, $49,330,000.

Money on call casy at 1 per cent., last loan at 1 per cent., prime mercantile paper, 34,64 to 16,45 to 1 mained during that administration, and also under the succeeding ones of Presi-dents Garfield and Arthur, during which government closely and faithfully guarded in 1885, however, when President Cleveland had been placed in the White House, and Mr. Bayard was Secretary of R. E. Withers, of Virginia, for Hong Kong, and Colonel Mosby became the Virginian to be removed, and the rat consul changed on the entire conerved Colonet Mesby, for upon the eccept of the cablegram announcing the Mosby, who was not aware of the rapidly approaching death of General Grant, wrote him a letter, stating his intended return to the practice of law in this country, and requesting some suggestions attorney. A few days later the cable brought news of General Grant's death, and Colonel Mosby was greatly surprised upon reaching San Francisco, to find a letter to the late Schator Leland Stan-ford, of California, written the very day previous to General Grant's death. The result of this letter was the engagement of Colonel Mosby as attorney for the outhern Pacific railroad, which position is still retains, his present visit to the East being for the purpose of arguing a case before the federal courts here. Colonel Mosby says he is permanently located in San Francisco, and never ex-pects to take up his residence again in the East, although from the close of the war until he left for China, he en-Joyed a very lucrative law practice in Warrenton, Va. there would recede still further. Vicksburg, Miss, telegraph here that continued rains are causing obsleerable anxiety. Mostgomery says the cold weather has injured cotton that his been planted, and that bad stands my follow. Our New Orleans firm wires dat their correspondents advise a heavy hall storm at Shreveport and general rains from Memphis south. With the tains at present low prices and the uncetalnties of planting operations, as well at their general lateness, except in the Brollmas, and the large short interest, he situation should create more nervousess on the purt of bears than buils. Electroe show by its spot sales less activity, and it may be difficult to push the market higher until their spot business if on a more liberal scale. The crop queston, both as to the amount of acreage ad the forwardness or lateness of preparations, is the governing feature just now. Threatened troubles between cattern reliners and operatives seem to be on the point of amicable adjustment, according to telegrams received this sternoon from Fall River. Port receipts to-day were 6,720 bales, against 12,100 blees has year. The estimate for New Orlans to-morrow is 1,000 bales, against 21,000 bales has year. At all ports last year or to-morrow were 5,200 bales. The loss is port receipts from this day last year is 5,300 bales, thus confirming our expectation yearlerday. Port movement so far this week 3,234 bales, against 24,474 bales, dding Port Royal clearances on Saturdy of 5,025 bales, amaking the excess so far this week 576 bales over the same pelod last year. The Courier-Journel of Monday morning, April 23, 1894, reports the Louisville (Ky.) market for the past week as follows:

The market has been stronger this week than for some time before. The highwater mark was reached Wednesday and Thursday, when bidding was active, the breaks of good quality and prices advanced beyond the outside fixures of quotations from 1-2c. to 2c., and in some cases as much as 3c. A number of dealers were on the breaks during the week and ordered up some boldings of leaf tobacco that had been stored here. There was some excellent tobacco Company was a heavy buyer, and prices went up to the top notch. A sale of leaf at $22 marked the highest point reached by the market this year, Colory burleys have especially been in demand, every grade showing greater strength. Trash averages 1-2c. higher, common and medium lugs 1-2c., good lugs 1911-2c., and leaf the same, with an advance of 3c. on some lots.

Red burley trash was quiet: lugs about 1-2c. higher, common to medium leaf 1-26 le. higher, common to medium leaf 1-26 le. higher, and good leaf tobac.

Dark tobacco has been dull and in light demand, thoug well.

The prices of Wednesday and Thursday were not sustained yesternay, and the advance in efficial quotations, taking account of the reaction at the close, is from 1-24/2c.
